Destination Ag - Planting Knowledge & Cultivating the Future

Whether you are planning on teaching in a formal classroom, leading interpretive programming at a state park, or educating the public about sustainable natural resources, this workshop is for you! Join the Georgia Museum of Agriculture on June 22, 2017 to become a Project WET certified educator.

Project WET is a nationally known and award-winning environmental education curriculum designed for teachers and other educators working with youth from preschool thru 12th grade. This workshop is an active, hands-on opportunity to experience the curriculum first hand. Participants will receive Project WET's Environmental Education Activity Guide for Pre-K thru 8th grade, which includes activities correlated to the national and state standards.

The workshop will be held 9:00am - 4:00pm at the Georgia Museum of Agriculture & Historic Village, Thursday, June 22, 2017. The cost is $25 and includes the Project WET curriculum and lunch. Plan to spend some time outdoors (closed-toe shoes recommended)! Register online or complete the form below and mail in with payment (checks payable to Georgia Museum of Agriculture, ATTN: Kelly Scott).
